The S. epidermidis sequences have antibacterial activity and can be used in gene therapy. The sequences can also be used in the diagnosis and treatment of bacterial infections, particularly S. epidermidis infections. The sequences can be used to screen for compounds able to interfere with the S. epidermidis life cycle or inhibit S. epidermidis infection.

The nucleic acids (I) may be used to produce the CC in vaccination. The nucleic acids (I) was the production of vectors CC s. epidermidis polypeptides (II) via the production of vectors CC containing them which are used to produce hosts cells which express the CC oblypeptides. The polypeptides (II) (and/or nucleic acids) may then be used to vaccinate subjects and to raise antibodies against the bacteria. CC the polypeptides may also be used to assay for other inhibitors of their CC treatment of S. epidermidis infections, e.g. endocarditis. AAH53971 to AAH55090 represent specifically claimed S. epidermidis genomic DNA CC AAH55098 represent oligonucleotide sequences and primers which are used CC in the exemplification of the present invention. AAH55091 to CC AAH55098 represent oligonucleotide sequences and primers which are used CC in the exemplification of the present invention. CC sequences given in the sequence listing of the present specification, though sequences are given in the disclosure for SEQ ID NO:4445 so even though sequences are given in the disclosure for SEQ ID NO:4465 to 4472, CC consequences are present for SEQ ID NO:4455 to 4464.

The transformants and recombinant enzyme produced can be used in fermentation processes e.g in baking and brewing. The transformed yeasts are esp. suitable for prodn. of low carbohydrate beers.

One positive cosmid (32kb; pYcl) was digested with EcoRI, religated and used to transform E.coli JA221. Positive transformants contain pYcl-alpha, which includes a 5kb EcoRI fragment contg. the gene in AAN81525.

The proteins have antibacterial and antiinflammatory C activity. (I), nucleic acids encoding (I), ABN66044-ABN71526 and CC antibodies that bind (I) are used in the manufacture of medicaments for CC the treatment or prevention of infection or disease caused by Streptococcus bacteria, particularly S. agalactiae and S. pyrogenes. CC Nucleic acids encoding (I) are used to detect Streptococcus in a CC biological sample. (I) is used to detect Streptococcus in a CC (I). A composition comprising (I) or a nucleic acid encoding (I), may be cc used as a vaccine or diagnostic composition. The disease caused by Streptococcus that is prevented or treated may be meningitis. Nucleic acid encoding (I) may be used to recombinantly produce (I) and may be used in gene therapy. Antibodies to II are used for affinity

The proteins have antibacterial and antiinflammatory cativity. (I), nucleic acids encoding (I), ABN66044-ABN71526 and antibodies that bind (I) are used in the manufacture of medicaments for CC the treatment or prevention of infection or disease caused by CC Streptococcus bacteria, particularly S. agalactiae and S. pyrogenes. CC Nucleic acids encoding (I) are used to detect Streptococcus in a CC biological sample. (I) is used to detect Streptococcus in a CC Diological sample. (I) is used to detect Streptococcus in a CC (I). A composition comprising (I) or a nucleic acid encoding (I), may be used as a vaccine or diagnostic composition. The disease caused by CC used as a vaccine or diagnostic composition. The disease caused by Streptococcus that is prevented or treated may be meningitis. Nucleic CC acid encoding (I) any be used to recombinantly produce (I) and may be used in gene therapy. Antibodies to (I) are used for affinity CC chromatography, immunoassays, and distinguishing/identifying

The S. epidermidis sequences have antibacterial activity and can be used in gene therapy. The sequences can also be used in the diagnosis and treatment of bacterial infections, particularly S. epidermidis infections. The sequences can be used to screen for compounds able to interfere with the S. epidermidis life cycle or inhibit S. epidermidis infection.

The invent useful in developmental biology and in elucidating cell signalling cell-cell interactions in higher eukaryotes for the development of insecticides, therapeutics and pharmaceutical drugs. The invention discloses genomic DNA sequences (ABL16176-ABL30511), expressed DNA sequences (ABL101840-ABL16175) and the encoded proteins

The nucleic acid sequence is useful in the detection and/or amplification of nucleic acid sequence, particularly to identify Lactococcus lactis or related species. The proteins of the invention are useful for the biosynthesis or biodegradation of a composition of interest. The invention helps research in lactic bacteria, particularly useful in the production of yogurt and cheese.

The invent useful in developmental biology and in elucidating cell signalling cell-cell interactions in higher eukaryotes for the development of insecticides, therapeutics and pharmaceutical drugs. The invention discloses genomic DNA sequences (ABL16176-ABL30511), expressed DNA sequences (ABL01840-ABL16175) and the encoded proteins

                                                                          The present invention relates to the genome sequence of Listeria monocytogenes EGD-e (see ABA03041). The genome sequence and fragments of it are useful for selecting probes and primers for detecting genes in L. monocytogenes and related organisms, and for studying genetic polymorphisms and other genomes. The present sequence is a protein encoded by the genome sequence of the present invention. Proteins expressed from the genome sequence are useful for raising specific antibodies, identification of L. monocytogenes and related organisms, are for biosynthesis and biodegradation, especially biosynthesis of Vitamin B12. The genome sequence and proteins encoded by it are also useful for selecting compounds that regulate gene expression and cell replication and modulate I. monocytogenes are expression and cell replication.

         The pstS gene encodes a phosphate-binding periplasmic protein that is part of the high-affinity phosphate transport system mediating phosphate uptake in certain prokaryotes such as E. coli. Gene expression is induced by phosphate starvation and positively regulated by the phosp protein. When phosphate levels in the surrounding medium are high the PstS gene product acts a repressor. PstS variants are molecules which have been modified

These variants may be used so that polypeptide induction may proceed in a bacterial host cell at concentrations of phosphate in the medium that are above the starvation level. This sequence is not given in the specification but is mentioned in the claims. It is a variant of the sequence described in AAR51473, differing by having a glycine residue at position 35.

New isolated Helicobacter for the diagnosis, prevent

CC polypeptide designated GHPO 1516. It was deduced from an isolated CC genomic DNA sequence (see AAW70913). The invention provides a family CC genomic DNA sequence (see AAW70913). The invention provides a family CC of 76 kDa Helicobacter polypeptides (see AAW73022-32), as well as a CR ABW73035), and also polypucleotides (see AAW73022-32), as well as a CC AAW73035), and also polynucleotides (see AAW73001, AAW07912-21 and CC AAW07963-64) encoding them, expression cassettes, and methods for CC producing the unprocessed or mature polypeptides in host cells. The CC polypeptides can be used in vaccination methods to prevent or treat Hb CC infection in a mammal. Methods and products of the invention allow CC treatment and prevention of gastroduodenal diseases associated with Hb CC infections, including acute, chronic, and atrophic gastritis, and CC peptic ulcer diseases, e.g. gastric and duodenal ulcers. Detection CC and diagnostic methods are also provided. GHPO 1516 was
